FIVE DEATHS.
Five deaths have occurred—Arthur L. White, Lorenzo Sallis, Elizabeth Hatcher, W. E. Nelson and Alexander Franklin, the last named colored. W. E. Nelson died five miles out on the Poplar street boulevard.

THE SICK.
Gen. John S. Skiffington, a prominent criminal lawyer, was prostrated this morning. His case is not yet reported to the board.

THE WEATHER
is growing warmer.

THE FEVER ON SHIPBOARD.
Providence, R. I., Aug. 18.—The schooner Susan Stetson, Nuriagoane for Providence, arrived here. It lost the captain's wife at Hayti, and two seamen on the voyage from yellow fever.

New York, Aug. 16.—Virginia

Lopez, who arrived with her parents from Havana, last week, in the steamer Saratoga, has died of yellow fever in the quarantine hospital. The purser of the steamer is down with the disease.

GREAT BRITAIN.
THE IRON TRADE.
London, Aug. 18.—A more cheerful feeling and other signs of improvement are noticed in the iron trade.

DEATH OF JULIA HOLMAN.
Julia Holman, the actress, died yesterday.

DESTRUCTIVE STORMS.
In consequence of the storm traffic is suspended on the railway between Chester and Holyhead.

The viaduct at Sandulus, Wales, has been washed away, also some of the bridges.

Several sewers were burst by freshets on the lines of the Liverpool railway.

BARKEHEAD IS FLOODED. There has been thirty hours' continuous rain at Chester.

In Derbyshire the rivers overflowed and all low lying lands are flooded.

The wheat crop is gradually rotting and August crops will not pay for cutting.

The rain at Sheffield was so violent as to wash away the foundations of five houses in course of construction.

LABOR.
A week's notice of a reduction of 5 percent in the wages of operatives has been posted in most of the cotton mills at Italy Bridge, where 200,000 spindles are running on short time and 200,000 stopped altogether, while 636,000 are working full time. A more general adoption of the short time system is expected this winter.

In Ashton-under-Lyne 425,000 spindles are stopped, and 200,000 work on short time.

THE LURGAN RIOT.
At Lurgan, Ireland, Saturday, 200 police charged on the mob with fixed bayonets. The police were beaten back and twenty of their number wounded. The rival mobs fired at each other with rifles. One leader of the Catholic party had some dynamite, which exploded injuring him fatally.

NELLIE GRANT NOT DEAD.
The announcement of the death of Mrs. Sartoris, daughter of General Grant, is not true. The mistake arose from the death of Mrs. F. W. Sartoris, formerly Adelaide Kemble.

CANADA.
THE QUEBEC RIOTS.
Quebec, Aug. 18.—The Irish ship laborers resolved not to accept any reduction of wages, as asked by the French section.

In both St. Patrick's and the French Churches yesterday the clergy recommended moderation.

A number of ladies who are remaining in town, have sought protection in the citadel.

The magistrates will call a meeting of interested persons and will ask the governor to enforce the Blake act.

The arms of the companies of the Quebec battalion have been stolen at Lereby by people from Cape Bleng.

SECOND DISPATCH.
The riotous mob have been dispersed by rain. All passers-by and all carriages during the night were challenged, stopped and examined by armed men.

The eighth royal rifles have removed from the skating rink to the queen's palace.

FRANCE.
A DUEL.
Paris, Aug. 18.—M. Perron, sub-lieut. Enant, of Hussars, and M. Riviere, editor of the Progress de Lyon, yesterday fought a duel, at Lyons. The latter was wounded in the lungs.

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER.
The number of victims of the accidents on the Argentine and Granville Railway was larger than at first reported: 15 killed and 36 wounded.

CRIME and CASUALTY.
THE LAST SCENE.
Boston, Aug. 18.—The funeral of J. P. F. Frye, who was murdered last Thursday night, took place this morning.

DEATH SENTENCE.
Lebanon, Aug. 18.—Wines, one of the Eber murderers, has made a confession which implicates another man, Hannibal, Drews, Strickner and Brant will be sentenced to death to-day.

New York, Aug. 18.—Eiban Catlow, of Hyde, Eng., and a passenger by the steamer Arizona, was arrested on the arrival of that vessel this morning, charged with the murder of Owen Jones, the ship steward.

SÄNGERFEST.

Mirth and Music, Enticing the Hour at Toledo.
Toledo, Aug. 18.—The second sengerfest of the Peninsular Sengerbund, composed of musical societies from northern Ohio, Indiana and Michigan will open here with a grand concert to-night, and continue until Thursday.

The concerts will be given on each evening and on Wednesday afternoon in Music Hall, erected for the occasion, and on Tuesday a grand street parade will occur, in which municipal and civic societies, military, and citizens generally will participate.

The following prominent artists will take place in the concert, assisted by a large chorus and efficient orchestra: Mlle. Litla, prima donna; Madame Flagiere Rice Knox, contralto; Signor Tagliapietra, baritone; Herr Pemenyi, violin; Virtuoso L. F. Boos, cornet.

Sporting Matters.
St. John, N. B., Aug. 18.—Wallace Ross left this morning for Halifax, accompanied by Dr. Levenberand Elijah Ross, his trainer. He says his races with Hanlon were square honest races and that he was never paid to lose. He says he was not paid to leave England and only left because he could not get a match on with Hanlon. Ross is willing to meet Courtney after the race with Smith.

Saratoga, Aug. 18.—The rain to-day caused a postponement of the races.

Made An Assignment.
Cincinnati, Aug. 18.—G. H. Bussing & Co., bankers, who were recently reported robbed of $50,000, to-day made an assignment to Judge Patrick Mallon. Liabilities, estimated at $100,000, assets believed to be sufficient to cover indebtedness. It is now reported that the loss by robbery amounted to $10,700.

Meteorological.
Washington, Aug. 18.—Indications: For the Ohio valley, as follows: Clear or partly cloudy weather, northerly winds, generally shifting to southerly, stationary followed by falling barometer. For lower lake region, slightly warmer, partly cloudy weather, variable winds, mostly northerly, stationary or lower barometer.

YOUNG—HUMBRECHT.
The Doctor's Charges Against a Policeman.

An Investigation Ordered.
Following are the charges preferred by Dr. J. W. Young against Policeman Humbrecht:

Eugene B. Smith, Chief of Police: Sir—I desire to hereby prefer charges against one George Humbrecht, policeman under your charge, as follows:

1. For unnecessarily being off his patrol or beat, and for being (unsubstantiated) in the Depot Drug Store between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock p. m. of the 11th of August, 1879, and for remaining there for the period of about one-half hour.

2. For unnecessarily and unsolicited being in the depot drug store on the night of August 12th, when he should have been attending to his patrol duties.

You will please take the necessary steps to bring this matter and charges before the mayor and committee of the council on police. With much respect,
J. W. YOUNG, M. D.

The complainant professes to be backed up with sufficient evidence corroborative of his own to bounce the alleged delinquent, and he is determined to push the matter. Per contra, Humbrecht is satisfied that the charges are preferred from motives of malice only, that he can exculpate himself entirely, and invites an early investigation.

The police committee, whose indefatigable searchers after policeman's perfidy, will take up the case immediately after the hearing of the libel suit brought by Policeman Humbrecht against Dr. Young, which will come up before Mayor Zollinger to-morrow.

A Gauzy Sensation.
The Gazette actually has a sensation. It's all about an Anderson House dance, named Stella Norman, alias Kate Bicknell, who has fallen heir to a fortune in England valued at $175,000. The mother arrived here last week and on Saturday took Kate to her home, a "small village near Chicago." It appears from the Gazette's story that Stella was seduced in the said village, came to this city, worked at the Grand Hotel a short time, found her condition interesting and then went to the Anderson House where she gave premature birth to a child, since which time she has been leading a life of shame at the Anderson. The story is rather interesting but decidedly gauzy.

The meaneast theft recently brought to light was that perpetrated by some miserable whelp who, on Friday night, entered the basement of the First Presbyterian Church and stole a lot of clothing and other material belonging to the Ladies' Relief & Aid Society, which was purchased for use in the industrial school for poor children, conducted by that society.

Miss Jessie Hoyt, of 269 West Jefferson street, returned home to-day.

Ladies can attend the ball match to-morrow with propriety. The costumes of the players are modest.

Justice Pratt this afternoon issued a warrant for Gus Strodel for assault and battery on James King.

J. D. Cook will arrive at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning. The board to-morrow will elect him consulting engineer of the works.

An advertisement calling for proposals for the pipe, to be opened on the 9th of September, was prepared by Mr. Cook, and adopted by the board. It will be found elsewhere. The specifications will be ready in about a week.

For the present the headquarters of the board will be at the Hamilton Bank. As soon as business begins in earnest, an office will be secured, and a clerk appointed as provided by the law.

THE COURTS.
SUPERIOR.
Dismissed: Fred Hayes vs. Jacob O. Keller. Jesse Holliday, trustee vs. Desdemona B. Holliday, Co. D. C. appointed receiver; bond $1,000.

On trial: John Brown, administrator, vs. Henry Ruel, receiver.

JUDGMENTS.
Leshner Trexler vs. Robert B. Shibley, $241.05.

NEW JURY.
The following jury was drawn to-day for the September term of this court: Cornelius Weaver, Pleasant township; Isaac Dressel, Springfield; Peter Wagner, Wayne; John W. Baum, Madison; Valentine Sitter, Lake; Norman Walker, Seneca; John Kroetz, city; Samuel Kinterson, Lafayette; J. B. White, city; Christopher L. White, city; C. C. Fisher, Washington; Geo. L. Springer, city.

Marshal Diehl and Lieut. Wilkinson returned home yesterday morning from Litchfield, Ill., with four young men named Henry Smith, Frank Hibler, James Wilson and Geo. Kinter, in whose possession was found a lot of revolvers and knives recently taken from Morgan & Beach's store. Their arrest by Litchfield officers has already been recorded in the SENTINEL. They returned with the Fort Wayne officers without a requisition. They acknowledged having the stolen property in their possession, but denied committing the burglary. Smith, Hibler and Wilson are Fort Wayne boys. Wilson's father is a worthy man and feels his son's arrest very keenly. He denies that the revolver was sold at Orr's mill, as stated by the Gazette. Kinter is a young Teuton from Chicago. The entire gang will probably go over the road.

Kinter, Wilson, Smith and Hibler are having their preliminary examination before Squire Ryan this afternoon.

Big novelty. Rare sport. Cartloads of fun. Female base ball match at Swinney Park to-morrow afternoon, beginning at 3:30. It will only cost you 25 cents to see the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Clements arrived from England a month ago, since which time they have lost their twin sons, the last of whom died Saturday. The family are in very moderate circumstances. They live near the French brewery.

Mrs. Samuel Wyckel and mother, returned from Chicago to-day, at which point they accompanied Mrs. Jno. Maier, who left the latter city this morning to join her husband in San Francisco.

A Grand Excursion to Rome City, will be held on the 20th inst. by the Salem Reformed Church. No person should fail to attend. Tickets $1.00. Train leaves depot at 7 o'clock.

Thousands of people flocked to see the female base ball nines at New York Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore. They will play a match game at Swinney Park to-morrow afternoon. Don't fail to see them.

"THE SENTINEL'S" PLATFORM.

No single member of the council will be permitted to "run" this enterprise to suit himself, or to bulldoze
the council or the board of water works trustees, nor will he be permitted to gratify his personal malice at the expense of the people. That might just as well be understood now as hereafter.

The SENTINEL's water works platform suits the people.

The location of the pumping works
as fixed by Mr. COOK and ratified by the council, is well adapted for the use of either steam or water power.

NOTICE is hereby given, that water works will be built on the most economical plan, or they will not be built at all. And don't you forget that. And that the cheapest power will be used or water works will not be built at all.
Don't you forget that either. And no one will be allowed to pay off his debts of personal enmity at the public expense. Neither will it do to forget that either.

CERTAIN gentlemen who have assumed to dictate everything connected with the water works question, assert that the ordinance passed by the council last Friday night commits the city to the use of steam power. Of course it does nothing of the kind. An amendment introduced by Mr. DASH, providing for the use of steam power,
was defeated, receiving only five votes
out of seventeen. So far as Mr. Cook's report is concerned, he wrote it and is doubtless the best authority concerning it. The following extract from an interview with him settles the question:

Q. Did you in your report advise the use of either steam or water power?
A. I did not. I said I would recommend the use of the cheapest and most economical power, whatever it might be. That question was left open for future decision.

Those who are looking for information as to the relative merits of water power and steam power for pumping purposes, are referred to the pamphlets and circulars of the Hon. JESSE L. WILLIAMS, where they will find a mine of valuable information on the subject. Mr. WILLIAMS devoted much time and labor to the work of gathering points on the subject from all over the country, all of which seemed to be in favor of water power. This information
he put together and added some terse and forcible arguments of his own. Mr. WILLIAMS is entitled to public thanks for thus placing this valuable knowledge and his own views
where they are so easily accessible to the people. He estimated the saving by the use of water power in pumping 8,000,000 gallons at $40 per day or $14,600 per year—an amount about equal to the entire interest on the water works bonds. Mr. WILLIAMS gathered his facts from first sources and they are indisputable. As for his arguments
no one would attempt to refute them
—unless it be Mr. WILLIAMS himself.
We earnestly advise our councilmen,
water works trustees and others who are seeking light on this all important question to secure copies of Mr.
WILLIAMS'S pamphlets and circulars
and study them carefully.

WATER POWER.

There are a good many things to be taken into consideration with reference to the power to be used in our water works. The question ought to be decided on its merits, and all personal considerations ignored. It is a matter of the utmost importance to the city, and if the council can save but one thousand dollars a year in the operating expenses of the works, they will be false to themselves, recreant to their duty and treacherous to the public if they do not do so. It must be conceded that water power has many obvious advantages over steam power. In the first place the use of water power costs, in reality, nothing. The only expense connected with it, is the pay of a man at the pumping works and the slight cost of oil, etc., for keeping the machinery in order. On the contrary steam power involves a very large expense for coal. In the second place water power is desirable because it is adequate for any amount of pumping.
By water power 8,000,000 gallons of water can be pumped as cheaply as 3,000,000 gallons, whereas by steam

each additional gallon of water pumped costs as much money.
The saving by the use of water power, therefore, increases each year.
If water power is used
there need be no concern as to the amount of water used. It can be furnished much cheaper than if pumped
by steam, and can therefore be taken by many poor people who could not otherwise afford to use it. By thus increasing the number of consumers,
the revenue of the works will be enlarged and their financial success assured. Again, the wear and tear of water pumping machinery is literally
nothing, and the cost of repairs trifling.
At Logansport but $1.25 was expended in twenty-two months for repairs of the pumping machinery. The cost of repairs is usually very large where the pumping is done by steam. And still again, if water power is used,
pumping can be done night and day without extra charge, whereas with steam power it is necessary, to save expense, to limit the time of pumping to ten or twelve hours per day. These are a few of the many arguments
which are advanced by the advocates of water power. They will be found fully set forth in JESSE L. WILLIAMS'S letters to the common council and the city press, in MOSES LANE'S report and in other equally authoritative documents. They may not be conclusive, but they are certainly worthy of careful consideration and thorough investigation. They will receive such consideration as the hands of every man who is not blinded by personal feelings and private malice to all regard for the public good, and who is not ready to sacrifice the general welfare, at any time, to gratify his own selfishness and animosities. Happily
these men are in the minority, as well in the council as among the people at large.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

It is believed that Count Andrassy
will not resign.

ously indisposed is contradicted.

niture warehouse and several dwellings.

tween Afghanistan are to be sent through the Indian government.

The French refuse to authorize ex-Khedive Ismail Pasha to reside in educational law.

During the riot at Lurgan, Ireland,
on the 16th, many houses were demolished, and the police stoned and fired upon. Many of them were badly injured.

Advices from Constantinople state that a circular note has been issued demanding the dismissal of Aleko

sensational.

The English officers and the Turkish interfering with the determination of the Bulgarian frontier by the action of the militia. The British consul general renewed his complaints to the Bulgarian government.

The Globe announced last Thursday that the police seized several cases of gunpowder, grenades and other explosives, consigned to a small chandler's shop in St. Petersburg. A large store of explosives was also found in the shop, and the proprietor was arrested.
It is not yet known where the powder
was obtained or how it was to be employed.

Albert Pell, formerly chairman of the central chamber of agriculture, and Claeswell Read, president of the chamber of agriculture, both members of parliament, are coming to Amer-

to inquire into the cause of the agricultural depression in England, and will start almost immediately, and take cognizance of the present har-

Another bright and promising career has been clouded by sexual sin
and its consequences. Col. Wellesley, a scion of the famous family from which the Duke of Wellington and the marquis of Wellesley, one of the ablest of all the Indian viceroys,
spring, has been compelled to abandon the diplomatic career, in which his military talents made him singularly useful, for the comparatively ordinary duties of a military man in time of peace.
He had served at Berlin more than once as military attaché during the maneuvers, and had acted in the same capacity both at the Franco-German war and in the Eastern campaign. His professional knowledge and aptitude for the semi-civil duties which are always in modern times called into play in the movements of great chief authorities both in his own country and abroad. He was in the combination of all these points an acute observer, but all his acumen failed him when he eloped with Miss Kate Vaughan, the actress. She was a fascinating woman, piquant in both manners, appearance and conversation,
but her charms have wrecked the near future of one of the most rapidly rising men in the British service.

SCANDAL SCRAP.

Gossip about Sprague and Conkling

WHAT GOV. SPRAGUE SAYS.
(Chicago Tribune.)

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 12.—
Your correspondent is personally acquainted with ex-Gov. Sprague. He was at the latter's residence last evening, when the following conversation
occurred:

Visitor—Your trouble with Mr.
Conkling is the talk of the whole country.

Mr. Sprague—I am not surprised.
Visitor—Did you command him to leave the house?

Mr. Sprague—I did, and I ought to have done so before.

Visitor—Have you had any personal difficulty with Prof. Finch, who has been teaching music in your family?

Mr. Sprague—None whatever. So far as I know Lincoln is a gentleman and a decent man. Conkling is not.

Visitor—Will you be offended if I ask you if you had been drinking previously to your rencontre with Mr.
Conkling?

Mr. Sprague—So that is part of the story now, is it? Well, I tell you, honestly, I had not a drop of wine or other liquor in me at the time. I was not under alcoholic influence. Had I been I should not have given Conkling
five minutes to leave the house.

Visitor—Once more, Mr. Sprague, will you say explicitly that you ordered Mr. Conkling to leave the house, and threatened to shoot him if he did not immediately comply?

Mr. Sprague—That is precisely what I did.

Visitor—Shall you publish any statement of the affair over your signature?

Mr. Sprague—I shall not.

Mr. Sprague did not ask whether this conversation was to be published,
and no pledge was given to him that it should not be. His statements are given verbatim.

SWISSHELM'S DEFENSE OF KATE.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Swisshelm, in a letter to the Tribune to-day, defends Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague. She says that if Mrs. Sprague did send bouquets and notes to his (Conkling's) desk, it would seem to indicate that her mode of lobbying was of the most graceful, highly approved and innocent kind.

Had her relations with Senator Conkling been criminal they would scarcely have blossomed out into these public manifestations. That very small pattern of a man, her husband, once proposed in the United States senate to employ and pay lady clerks in departments on the same plan that he did his factory girls, and all the soul
that he has must have been rattling around in his little body like a grain of mustard seed in a dry gourd, or he would have gone to Washington last winter on the first hint of scandal,
and quietly notified Senator Conkling
that he had rights at stake and children to protect.

The fact that Senator Conkling went openly to Sprague's house, taking his trunk, shows that Mr. Sprague had not given him reason to understand that he would not be welcome.
The whole affair seems like another instance of Kate's constitutional wilful-ness and habitual defiance of Mrs.
Grundy. For her father's sake and that of her sisters and her children,
and for the sake of truth and fair dealing, I trust that a most generous allowance will be made for her. She has no doubt been using Mr. Conkling to procure government favors for herself and family, but this does not prove that she has been false to herself and broken her vows as a wife.

AN OLD STORY RETOLD.

(Chicago Times Special.)

Columbus, O., Aug. 12.—The publication here of the Mrs. Sprague-Conkling affair set the gossip talking in earnest to-day. The old horse-whipping story was told and retold by those who are old enough to remember it. An account of the whipping was not published in this city at the time, or at least the newspaper files do not show it. However, it was the talk in the city that Kate and her admirer
acted very indiscreetly in many ways.
Her admirer was the state printer, Nevins, a married man, who was living in Northwest Heights at that time out of the city. Nearly every afternoon he drove around by the school house and took Kate out riding.
He called upon her at the executive mansion, and the gossip says that he would meet her at appointed places

after night during the fore part of the evening. It was further alleged at that time that her married lover
would call to see her at other places than her father's home. One day an old gentleman in this city was riding with this admirer, and they chanced to pass a certain residence where Kate was standing at the window. There was considerable flirting, and Kate's gallant told his companion that he could do as he wished with her, but the old gentleman did not think much of the assertion until the horsewhipping scrape occurred. Quite a number of women who were then young ladies remember the circumstances very well, and remember of the report of Gov. Chase horsewhipping Kate's lover. But whether the report was true or not they will not say. They think that Kate was an indiscreet girl, and that possibly she might have erred. They acknowledge that Kate was the belle of the city during her father's residence in Columbus, and that her position was envied by a bevy of other young ladies. Being the daughter of the governor of the state, she would naturally occupy a high position. They further say that she was a good talker, had many charms and would attract most any young man, and that she was well educated. In regard to her character there are two sides in this city. One claims that she was fast and the other that she was not. "The sides are nearly equal, but all admit that her conduct with her admirer at that time
was very indiscreet."

MORE SCANDAL ABOUT CONKLING.

(New York Star.)

It is rumored that old scandals
against Senator Conkling will soon break out afresh. It is said that the senator and his wife have not lived happily together for several years.
One cause of their misunderstanding has been, it is said, a Mrs. Hayden of Port Byron, N. Y., who is rumored to have been the senator's private secretary. Mrs. Conkling spent the winters in Washington with her husband until about four years ago. At that time the gossip said the cause of her return home was that a servant handled Mrs. Conkling a bouquet one day, to which a card was attached. On the card was written the name of a well known society lady, and on the back was written her husband's name.
It was a mistake on the part of the servant who had been told to take the bouquet to the lady whose name was written on the back of the card. Since then Mrs. Conkling has visited Florida during the winter or remained at her Utica home.

It is said that Mrs. Hayden is the lady who was the cause of the alleged separation. Her history is unique and interesting. Her husband, John Hayden, was a wealthy resident of Port Byron. During his visit to New York he became acquainted with the family of Silas Miller, a retired merchant of affluence, who lived on Beekman Hill in princely style. Two handsome daughters graced the Miller household, and it was said that Hayden for a time was enamored of both of them. His love for Emma,
the younger, finally predominated,
and having, as he thought, assurances
of her affection for him, he proposed one day, confidently expecting to be successful in his suit. Miss Miller, however, burst into tears and hysterically declared that she could never become his wife. She acknowledged that she loved him, but refused to explain her extraordinary conduct. The older sister, Lizzie, then became the object of Hayden's conquest, and when he offered himself as a suitor, she accepted him. An elegant wedding soon followed and the couple started for Port Byron. It was there that his newly-wedded wife informed him calmly that she would be his wife simply in name. She had married him to gratify her social ambition, because she did not wish to see her younger sister married before her.
She also revealed the part she had played in misrepresenting to her sister that Hayden did not love her, and in that way had brought about the rejection of Hayden's suit. For propriety's sake, they occupied the same house, but his wife soon left him for the giddy whirl of Washington life.
Rumor soon coupled her name with that of Senator Conkling in the capacity of private secretary. Mrs.
Hayden, when last heard from, was in Florida. She is thirty-two years old,
and is a woman of engaging beauty.
Emma Miller died recently, and it is said that she had expressed deep affection for her former suitor.

SWEET KATE.

(Nashville Banner.)

We well remember, gay, lively, sprightly Kate Chase. She was then as thoughtless and gay as she is now.
She said what she pleased to every one and gained the reputation of being quite fast. She went to school at Oxford at a time when many of our Tennessee boys went there, and every one of them fell in love with her and was in turn engaged to her.
But there was nothing more thought about her than that she was a co-quette, whom men all like, and who seems not to have gained any sense
with her experience.

LANGUOR, ITS CAUSE AND REMEDY.

The cause of languor, when it is not the immediate or indirect consequence of positive disease, is traceable to a debilitating temperance. Persons in a warm, moist climate are peculiarly subject to it.
Diminished physical vigor and an indis-
position to active exertion are its characteristics. Sometimes it is accompanied by undue relaxation of the bowels, and by dyspeptic or bilious symptoms. A reliable remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,
a strengthening and alterative medicine
derived from the purest and most efficacious
vegetable sources, with a pure spirituous basis, pronounced by eminent physicians a mild and wholesome stimulant. The Bitters, foremost of American tonics, is largely used in the tropics, where the climate is very productive of debility, languor, nervousness and disorders of the bowels, liver and digestive organs.

As a cool, pleasant and healthy beverage, we think that the Rhenish Natural Mineral Water is pre-eminently the best. It is without doubt one of the finest natural table waters known,

and when mixed with wine, brandies or fruit syrups it forms a drink that is much approved of at the clubs. For sale by druggists, grocers and liquor dealers generally.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

The Frye Murder in Boston—Big

Thomas Murphy was arrested at Boston on Sunday, suspected of the Frye murder.

The total loss by the oil fire at Parker's, Landing, Pa., in which 80,000 barrels of oil were destroyed, was $100,000.

At Centerville, on Saturday, Geo.
Farish, was shot and instantly killed by Louis Wendall. The murderer is under arrest.

At Pottsville, Pa., on Sunday, Sam.
Brooks, a farmer, was fatally beaten
by Horace Holman and Jeff Jacks.
Both were arrested.

James H. Wilbur, overseer of the Pacific mills at Lawrence, Mass., has confessed to a large amount of stealing
during the past four years by doctoring the pay rolls.

A notorious character, named Ben Willard, has been arrested as an accomplice of Chapman's in the $14-000 express robbery. He was arrested in Nebraska and taken by requisition.

Last Thursday, while George By-rum, of Delphos, was rapidly revolving a hoop-saw, it caught his leg, cutting it off at the hip. He lived but a few minutes, dying from the loss of blood. His age was twenty-four, and he was unmarried.

A farmer, named Narel, with his family, returning from Peoria on Wednesday, attempted to ford Farm Creek. A storm came up with great violence, and the wagon was overturned. One boy was drowned and Mrs. Narel was badly injured and is now dying.

On Saturday night L. F. Whitebeck,
local editor of the Deadwood Pioneer, shot at a negro whom he claims had assaulted him, but missed the negro and struck V. R. Martin, formerly a wholesale grocer of that city, in the forehead, inflicting a dangerous wound, probably fatal.

Heavy storms on Lake Erie have greatly interfered with navigation.
Sixty-two vessels are storm-bound near Buffalo and seventy-two between there and Au Placé. The schooner Lizzie
A. Law arrived at Buffalo from Chicago on Sunday, it being the first sailing craft to arrive for two days. The storm is the heaviest since 1869.

Cincinnati, Aug. 16.—Richard W.
Otto, a merchant on Fifth street, and his nephew, Freddie Otto, were drowned, Thursday evening, in the Big Miami, thirteen miles from the city,
while in bathing.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Tommy Smith,
the notorious burglar who escaped from jail a short time ago by concealing himself in a large waste paper basket,
was caught yesterday at James Sampey's, on Wallace street, where he had engaged board, and was sleeping on the floor with a revolver beside him. He was taken to prison to serve nine years.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—In a little cottage in the grove at the river forest,
live old Henry Baldwin and wife.
About 8 o'clock yesterday morning a loud rapping was heard. Finally the door was opened, young Baldwin having armed himself with a shot-gun. A big, burly tramp rushed in with an uplifted club. He was confronted by young Baldwin, who fired a full charge into the breast of the tramp,
who fell dead without uttering a word.
His comrades fled.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 15.—This morning a run-in occurred between two freight trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Black Oak, seven miles east of Piedmont, W. Va. One train was loaded with grain and the other with stock. The stock train was badly wrecked, the engine being thrown over the bank, killing the engineer, Mr. McDonald, of Martinsburg, and severely injuring the fireman. A large number of cattle, hogs and sheep were also killed.

Jesse Jones, aged eighty years, was killed at Pensacola, W. Va., last evening. At the time of the accident he was drunk and staggering along the track when he was struck by a freight train. He leaves a wife and family.

Quebec, Aug. 16.—An old man named Crowley was fatally beaten
this evening by three men at Cape Blanc. Giroux was killed with stones and a boat hook, not with a bullet. In St. Roches several brutal assaults are reported, and people there have stopped
the street cars, as there are a number of English speaking employees. A man named Brown was badly beaten.
The first part of Chaplain street, leading up to the cove, is principally inhabited by Irish. Higher up, towards a portion of the street called Cape
Blanc, is known as the French district.
St. Roches and St. Saviour are also mostly French districts, and Montcalm ward Irish and French. The estimated expense to the city
by the riot is over $50,000, exclusive of commercial loss which must ensue
from rioting and assaults at Cape Blanc at intervals, but there is not now so much apprehension of a stand fight by the battalion called out, principally French Canadians. A meeting of the members of the old Ship Laid Society is called for to-night on Priest's wharf. The object is to induce the extremists in the society to accept the terms desired by the French seceders.
The upper town is pretty free from trouble, and strangers and business men are not interfered with.

"THE SENTINEL'S" PLATFORM.

No single member of the council will be permitted to "run" this enterprise to suit himself, or to bulldoze the council or the board of water works trustees, nor will he be permitted to gratify his personal malice at the expense of the people. That might just as well be understood now as hereafter.

THE SENTINEL'S water works platform suits the people.

THE location of the pumping works as fixed by Mr. COOK and ratified by the council, is well adapted for the use of either steam or water power.

NOTICE is hereby given, that water works will be built on the most economical plan, or they will not be built at all. And don't you forget that. And that the cheapest power will be used or water works will not be built at all. Don't you forget that either. And no one will be allowed to pay off his debts of personal enmity at the public expense. Neither will it do to forget that either.

Certain gentlemen who have assumed to dictate everything connected with the water works question, assert that the ordinance passed by the council last Friday night commits the city to the use of steam power. Of course it does nothing of the kind. An amendment introduced by Mr. BAEH, providing for the use of steam power, was defeated, receiving only five votes out of seventeen. So far as Mr. COOK's report is concerned, he wrote it and is doubtless the best authority concerning it. The following extract from an interview with him settles the question:

Q. Did you in your report advise the use of either steam or water power?

A. I did not. I said I would recommend the use of the cheapest and most economical power, whatever it might be. That question was left open for future decision.

Those who are looking for information as to the relative merits of water power and steam power for pumping purposes, are referred to the pamphlets and circulars of the Hon. JESSE L. WILLIAMS, where they will find a mine of valuable information on the subject. Mr. WILLIAMS devoted much time and labor to the work of gathering points on the subject from all over the country, all of which seemed to be in favor of water power. This information he put together and added some terse and forcible arguments of his own. Mr. WILLIAMS is entitled to public thanks for thus placing this valuable knowledge and his own views where they are so easily accessible to the people. He estimated the saving by the use of water power in pumping 3,000,000 gallons at $40 per day or $14,600 per year—an amount about equal to the entire interest on the water works bonds. Mr. WILLIAMS gathered his facts from first sources and they are indisputable. As for his arguments no one would attempt to refute them—unless it be Mr. WILLIAMS himself. We earnestly advise our councilmen, water works trustees and others who are seeking light on this all important question to secure copies of Mr. WILLIAMS's pamphlets and circulars and study them carefully.

WATER POWER.

There are a good many things to be taken into consideration with reference to the power to be used in our water works. The question ought to be decided on its merits, and all personal considerations ignored. It is a matter of the utmost importance to the city, and if the council can save but one thousand dollars a year in the operating expenses of the works, they will be false to themselves, recalcitrant to their duty and treacherous to the public if they do not do so. It must be conceded that water power has many obvious advantages over steam power. In the first place the use of water power costs, in reality, nothing. The only expense connected with it, is the pay of a man at the pumping works and the slight cost of oil, etc., for keeping the machinery in order. On the contrary steam power involves a very large expense for coal. In the second place water power is desirable because it is adequate for any amount of pumping. By water power 5,000,000 gallons of water can be pumped as cheaply as 1,000,000 gallons, whereas by steam pumped additional gallon of water pumped costs 50 much money. The saving by the use of water power, therefore, increases each year. If water power is used there need be no concern as to the amount of water used. It can be furnished much cheaper than if pumped by steam, and can therefore be taken by many poor people who could not otherwise afford to use it. By thus increasing the number of consumers, the revenue of the works will be enlarged and their financial success assured. Again, the wear and tear of water pumping machinery is literally nothing, and the cost of repairs trifling. At Logansport but $1.25 was expended in twenty-two months for repairs of the pumping machinery. The cost of repairs is usually very large where the pumping is done by steam. And still again, if water power is used, pumping can be done night and day without extra charge, whereas with steam power it is necessary, to save expense, to limit the time of pumping to ten or twelve hours per day. These are a few of the many arguments which are advanced by the advocates of water power. They will be found fully set forth in JESSE L. WILLIAMS's letters to the common council and the city press, in MOSES LANE's report and in other equally authoritative documents. They may not be conclusive, but they are certainly worthy of careful consideration and thorough investigation. They will receive such consideration at the hands of every man who is not blinded by personal feelings and private malice to all regard for the public good, and who is not ready to sacrifice the general welfare, at any time, to gratify his own selfishness and animosities. Happily these men are in the minority, as well in the council as among the people at large.

Albert Pell, formerly chairman of the central chamber of agricultural, and Claeswell Read, president of the chamber of agriculture, both members of parliament, are coming to America in connection with the commission to inquire into the cause of the agricultural depression in England, and will start almost immediately, and take cognizance of the present harvest.

Another bright and promising career has been clouded by sexual sin and its consequences. Col. Wellesley, a scion of the famous family from which the Duke of Wellington, one of the ablest of all the Indian viceroys, sprung, has been compelled to abandon the diplomatic career, in which his military talents made him singularly useful, for the comparatively ordinary duties of a military man in time of peace. He had served at Berlin more than once as military attache during the maneuvers, and had acted in the same capacity both at the Franco-German war and in the Eastern campaign. His professional knowledge and aptitude for the semi-civil duties which are always in modern times called into play in the movements of great armies had been recognized by the same chief authorities both in his own country and abroad. He was in the combination of all these points an acute observer, but all his acumen failed him when he eloped with Miss Kate Vaughan, the actress. She was a fascinating woman, and in both manner, appearance and conversation, but her charms have wrecked the near future of one of the most rapidly rising men in the British service.

SCANDAL SCRAPES.

Scandal about Sprague and Conkling—What Sprague Says—Mrs. Sprague's Defense of Conkling—An Old Story Retold.

WHAT GOV. SPRAGUE SAYS.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 12.—Your correspondent is personally acquainted with ex-Gov. Sprague. He was at the latter's residence last evening, when the following conversation occurred:

Visitor—Your trouble with Mr. Conkling is the talk of the whole country.

Mr. Sprague—I am not surprised. Visitor—Did you command him to leave the house?

Mr. Sprague—I did, and I ought to have done so before.

Visitor—Have you had any personal difficulty with Prof. Link, who has been teaching music in your family?

Mr. Sprague—None whatever. So far as I know Link is a gentleman and a decent man. Conkling is neither.

Visitor—Will you be offended if I ask you if you had been drinking previous to your rencontre with Mr. Conkling?

Mr. Sprague—So that is part of the story now, is it? Well, I tell you, honestly, I had not a drop of wine or other liquor in my system. I was not under alcoholic influence. Had I been I should not have given Conkling five minutes to leave the house.

Visitor—Once more, Mr. Sprague, will you say explicitly that you ordered Mr. Conkling to leave the house, and threatened to shoot him if he did not immediately comply?

Mr. Sprague—That is precisely what I did.

Visitor—Shall you publish any statement of the affair over your signature?

Mr. Sprague—I shall not.

Mr. Sprague did not say whether this conversation was to be published, and no pledge was given to him that it should not be. His statements are given verbatim.

SWISHELM'S DEFENSE OF KATE.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Swishelm, in a letter to the Tribune to-day, defends Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague. She says that if Mrs. Sprague did send a bouquet and notes to his (Conkling's) desk, it would seem to indicate that her mode of lobbying was of the most graceful, highly approved and innocent kind.

Had her relations with Senator Conkling been criminal they would scarcely have blossomed out into these public manifestations. That very small pattern of a man, her husband, once proposed in the United States senate to employ and pay lady clerks in departments on the same plan that he did his factory girls, and all the soul that he must have been rattling around in his little body like a grain of mustard seed in a dry gourd, or he would have gone to Washington last winter on the first hint of scandal, and quietly notified Senator Conkling that he had rights at stake and children to protect.

The fact that Senator Conkling went openly to Sprague's house, taking his trunk, shows that Mr. Sprague had not given him reason to understand that he would not be welcome.

The whole affair seems like another instance of Kate's constitutional wilfulness and habitual defiance of Mrs. Grundy. For her father's sake and that of her sisters and her children, and for the sake of truth and fair dealing, I trust that a most generous allowance will be made for her. She has no doubt been using Mr. Conkling to procure government favors for herself and family, but this does not prove that she has been false to herself and broken her vows as a wife.

AN OLD STORY RETOLD.

(Chicago Times Special.)

Colmaus, O., Aug. 12.—The publication here of the Mrs. Sprague-Conkling affair set the gossip talking in earnest to-day. The old horse-whipping story was told and retold by those who are old enough to remember it. An account of the whipping was not published in this city at the time, but at least the newspaper files do not show it. However, it was the talk in the city that Kate and her admirer acted very indiscreetly in many ways.

Her admirer was the state printer, Nevius, a married man, who was living in Northwood Heights, at that time out of state. Nearly every afternoon he drove around by the school house and took Kate out riding. He called upon her at the executive mansion, and the gossip says that he would meet her at appointed places after night during the first part of the evening. It was further alleged at that time that her married lover would call to see her at other places than her father's home. One day an old gentleman in this city was riding with this admirer, and they changed to pass a certain residence where Kate was standing at the window. The gentleman told his companion that he could do as he wished with her, but the old gentleman did not think much of the assertion until the horse-whipping scrape occurred. Quite a number of women who were then young ladies remember the circumstances very well, and remember of the report of Gov. Chase horsewhipping Kate's lover. But whether the report was true or not they will not say. Our think that Kate was an indiscreet girl, and that possibly she might have erred. They acknowledge that Kate was the belle of the city during her father's residence in Columbus, and that her position was envied by a bevy of other young ladies. Being the daughter of the governor of the state, she would naturally occupy a high position. They further say that she was a good talker, had many charms and would attract most any young man, and that she was well educated. In regard to her character for honesty, they say that she was not. "The sides are nearly equal, but all admit that her conduct with her admirer at that time was very indiscreet."

MORE SCANDAL ABOUT CONKLING.

(New York Star.)

It is rumored that old scandals against Senator Conkling will soon break out afresh. It is said that the senator and his wife have not lived happily together for several years. One cause of their misunderstanding has been, it is said, a Mrs. Hayden of Fort Byron, N. Y., who is rumored to have been the senator's private secretary. Mrs. Conkling spent the winters in Washington with her husband until about four years ago. At that time the gossip said the cause of her return home was that a servant handed Mrs. Conkling a bouquet one day, to which a card was attached. On the card was written the name of a lady, and the name of the lady was Mrs. Hayden. Since then Mrs. Conkling has visited Florida during the winter or remained at her Utica home.

It is said that Mrs. Hayden is the lady who was the cause of the alleged separation. Her history is unique and interesting. Her husband, John Hayden, was a wealthy resident of Fort Byron. During his visit to New York he became acquainted with the family of Silas Miller, a retired merchant of affluence, who lived on Beekman Hill in princely style. Two handsome daughters graced the Miller household, and it was said that Hayden for a time was enamored of both of them. His love for Emma, the younger, finally predominated, and having, as it is thought, ascertained that she was not married, he one day, confidently expecting to be successful in his suit. Miss Miller, however, burst into tears and hysterically declared that she could never become his wife. She acknowledged that she had loved him, but she explained her extraordinary conduct. The older sister, Lizzie, then became the object of Hayden's conquest, and when he offered himself as a suitor, she accepted him. An elegant and refined young man followed and the couple started for Fort Byron. It was there that his newly-wedded wife informed him calmly that she would be his wife simply in name. She had married him to gratify her social ambition, because she did not wish to see her younger sister married before her. She also revealed the part she had played in misrepresenting to her sister that Hayden did not love her, and in that way had brought about the rejection of Hayden's suit. For propriety's sake, they occupied the same house, but his wife soon left him for the giddy whirl of Washington life. Rumor soon coupled her name with that of Senator Conkling in the capacity of private secretary. Mrs. Hayden, when last heard from, was in Florida. She is this year, two years old, and is a woman of engaging beauty. Emma Miller died recently, and it is said that she had expressed deep affection for her former suitor.

SWEET KATE.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

The Traveller in Boston—Traveller's Life—Deceased—Tramp Perforated at Chicago—Accident on the Baltimore and Ohio R. R.—The Quebec Riots, Etc.

Thomas Murphy was arrested at Boston on Sunday, suspected of the Frye murder.

The total loss by the oil fire at Parker's, Landing, Pa., in which 80,000 barrels of oil were destroyed, was $100,000.

At Centerville, on Saturday, Geo. Parish, was shot and instantly killed by Louis Wendall. The murderer is under arrest.

At Potteryville, Pa., on Sunday, Sam. Brooks, a farmer, was fatally beaten by Horace Holman and Jeff Jacks. Both were arrested.

Jas. H. Wilbur, overseer of the Pacific mills at Lawrence, Mass., has confessed to a large amount of stealing during the past four years by doctoring the pay rolls.

A notorious character, named Ben Willard, has been arrested as an accomplice of Chapman's in the $14,000 express robbery. He was arrested in Nebraska and taken by requisition.

Last Thursday, while George Byrum, of Delphos, was rapidly revolving a hod, he caught his leg, cutting it off at the hip. He lived but a few minutes, dying from the loss of blood. His age was twenty-four, and he was unmarried.

A farmer, named Narel, with his family, returning from Peoria on Wednesday, attempted to ford Farm Creek. A storm came up with great violence, and the wagon was overturned. One boy was drowned and Mrs. Narel was badly injured and is now dying.

On Saturday night L. F. Whitebeck, local editor of the Deadwood Pioneer, shot at a negro whom he claims had assaulted him, but missed the negro and struck V. B. Martin, formerly a wholesale grocer of that city, in the forehead, inflicting a dangerous wound, probably fatal.

Heavy storms on Lake Erie have greatly interfered with navigation. Sixty-two vessels are storm-bound near Buffalo and seventy-two between there and Annapolis.

A law arrived at Buffalo from Chicago on Sunday, it being the first sailing craft to arrive for two days. The storm is the heaviest since 1869.

Cincinnati, Aug. 16.—Richard W. Otte, a merchant on Fifth street, and his nephew, Freddie Otte, were drowned, Thursday evening, in the Big Miami, thirteen miles from the city, while in bathing.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Tommy Smith, the notorious burglar who escaped from jail a short time ago by concealing himself in a large waste paper basket, was caught yesterday at James Sampsey's, on Wallace street, where he had been hiding, and was sleeping on the floor with a revolver beside him. He was taken to prison to serve nine years.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—In a little cottage in the grove at the river forest, live old Henry Baldwin and wife. About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a loud rapping was heard. Finally the door was opened, young Baldwin having armed himself with a shot-gun. A big, burly tramp rushed in with an uplifted club. He was confronted by young Baldwin, who fired a full charge into the breast of the tramp, who fell dead without uttering a word. His comrades fled.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 16.—This morning a collision occurred between two freight trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Black Oak, seven miles east of Piedmont, W. Va. One train was loaded with grain and the other with stock. The stock train was badly wrecked, the engine being thrown over the bank, killing the engineer, Mr. McDonald, of Martinsburg, and severely injuring the fireman. A large number of cattle, hogs and sheep were also killed.

Quebec, Aug. 16.—An old man named Crowley was fatally beaten this evening by three men at Cape Blanc. Giroux was killed with stones and a hatchet, not with a club, as is reported. Several brutal assaults are reported, and people there have stopped the street cars, as there are a number of English speaking employees. A man named Brown was badly beaten. if he was all there, he quietly departed. His name could not be learned.

Last evening while young Christ Weller was riding his horse up Berry street, it suddenly took fright and ran away. When near the corner of Lafayette and Berry, young Weller was thrown violently to the ground. As he fell the hind hoof of the horse just grazed his head, inflicting a slight wound. He was taken into a house and medical aid summoned. It is thought that he is injured internally. He is resting easier to-day, but cannot be moved.

Water Power vs Steam Power.

(Journal.)

The agitation of the subject of motive power for our water works has begun, and the advice given by Mr. J. L. Williams a few years ago in the premises is now being brought to bear upon this all important question. There can be no doubt that Mr. Williams' recommendations in the matter were sound, in the event that sufficient capacity could be obtained at a reasonable expense. Mr. Williams was undoubtedly right in his deductions. The cost of fuel, should steam power alone be adopted, would be a tremendous outlay. No comparison can be made with the cost of motive power in Toledo, Sandusky and other cities situated in reasonable proximity to the coal regions of Ohio and Pennsylvania. As long as coal costs six dollars per ton here, when the same can be obtained in Toledo for half that sum, the expense for fuel will be at least one-half more than in that city. If water power can be secured, and we see no reason why it cannot, it would certainly be much more economical, as, after its inception, the cost of running would be comparatively nothing.

Pleasing to Uncle Jesse.

It cannot be otherwise than pleasing to Jesse L. Williams to know that at this time when the city needs the advice of one capable of advising, his suggestions regarding water supply made four years ago or more, are attracting the most favorable attention.

SPECULATION.

Since the creation, it is estimated that 27,000,000,000,000 have lived on the earth. This sum divided by 27,864,000 the number of square miles, gives 1,314,522,086 to a square mile and 5 to a square foot. Suppose a square rod be divided into eleven graves, each grave would contain 100 persons. But this speculation, and of no benefit to the 1,000,000,000 people that now exist, 500,000,000 of whom are invalids, 33,000,000 dying each year. What they most want are the facts concerning Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. For years his Golden Medical Discovery has been the standard remedy for the cure of all scrofulous, throat and lung diseases. While for over a quarter of a century, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has been unrivaled as a positive cure for catarrh. For full information, see the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, an illustrated of over 900 pages, price (post-paid), $1.50. Over 100,000 copies sold. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

We Challenge the World.

When we say we believe, we have evidence to prove that Shiloh's Consumption Cure is decidedly the best Lung Medicine made, inasmuch as it will cure a common or chronic cough in one half the time and relieve Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, and show more cases of Consumption cured than all others. It will cure where they fail; it is pleasant to take, harmless to the youngest child, and we guarantee what we say. Price, 10 cents, 50 cents and $1. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Dreier & Bro.

"You Don't Know their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, and recommended I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, whom the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they did them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters and do not recommend them highly enough."—B. Rochester, N. Y.

Since the composition of one of the most popular proprietary medicines—we speak of Dr. F. Wilhoft's Anti-Periodic or Fever and Ague Tonic—has been published and accompanies every bottle, the sales of this great specific for the cure of Chills and Fever, Dumb Chills and hypertrophied spleen have doubled, and the leading physicians prescribe it in their practice when the usual remedies fail. All Druggists sell it.

Wicked for Clergymen.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines, when a really meritorious article made of valuable remedies known to all, that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they will be of equal service to all who will not be without them."—Washington, D. Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE.

The "Miraculous" and Refreshing External Application in the World.

It rapidly heals Ulcers, Old Sores, and Discharging Wounds, Itching Piles and other itching affections that have been the torture of a lifetime, thus affording unspeakable relief to thousands of Burns, Scalds, Wounds, and Fevers; all Itching and Stuffy Eruptions of the Skin, and all Affections of the Scalp, including Loss of Hair. Nothing like it has ever been known to the most intelligent physicians. It has swept a host of poisonous remedies out of existence. It is a revolutionary treatment and succeeds in curing every external affection. At every stage it is aided by Cuticura Soap, which is a part of itself medicinally and at the same time the most delightfully fragrant and refreshing Toilet, Bath, and Nursery Soap in existence.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a powerful purifying agent and liver stimulant, should be taken to neutralize and remove all blood poisons, caused by the virus of scrofula, cancer, canker, malarial or contagious diseases, which maintain and foster diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

SALT RHEUM.

Life a Burden From the Sufferings Caused by This Terrible Disease.

Wessing, Wm. & Co., Portland, Me., please accept my most grateful thanks for the great, very great, comfort I have derived from the use of your Cuticura.

For the past eight or nine years I have been troubled with that dreadful disease, Salt Rheum.

For months I would be helpless—my very life a burden to me.

I have used everything in the shape of medicine, both external and internal, but with no effect.

My hands were in a terrible condition, the backs of them being all raw, and I thought I would try CUTICURA.

I tried it and lo! it was as if a miracle had been performed, for I will take my oath that in three applications my hands were smooth and free from all sores.

I presume there are hundreds, if not thousands, who know my case, and among whom there may be some one similarly afflicted, and if so I would earnestly advise them to give CUTICURA a trial.

Yours, very respectfully,

A. D. BAKER, Ticket Agent C. & N. R. R. Detroit Junction, Detroit, Mich., Jan. 20, 1879.

TETTER OR SALT RHEUM

On the hands cured. A Grateful Letter.

Having been troubled for many years with the Tetters or Salt Rheum, and spent many dollars in vain, I was given a trial of your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

You may put this in the paper and well come and may it do some other poor sufferer the same good it has done me! I am well and happy, and give up all hope of fifteen years and kept my hands for a living, and sometimes my heart was sore, and I would have given up all hope, but for your CUTICURA, and thank God, my hands are well. I never had anything do me good like that.

Yours, very respectfully,

ELIZABETH BUCKLEY, LITTLETON, N. H., May 30, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Dr. W. C. Potter, Chemist and Druggist, 380 Washington street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale by all druggists. CHURCH CHAT.

Opening of the Two Weeks' Mission at the Cathedral.

The Labors of the "Reformed Clown"—Local Religious Notes.

MISSION AT THE CATHEDRAL.

The mission at the cathedral was formally inaugurated yesterday by the Rt. Rev. Jos. Dwenger. The vast edifice was densely packed with the people of all denominations, who came to witness the opening exercises of the mission, which is to be conducted by Fathers Cooke, Myers, New and McGuire of the Redemptorist order. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. Father Cooke. The orator possesses a clear musical voice, and a pleasing address. He was attentively listened to throughout. He explained the necessity of a mission and the vast amount of good accomplished thereby, and concluded his eloquent address by exhorting his hearers to attend the mission faithfully. The children's mission was opened at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and will conclude to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Sermons will be preached twice a day throughout the mission, one at half past 8 in the morning, the other at half past 7 in the evening. The mission will last about fourteen days.

HASKELL'S WORK.

Haskell, the reformed clown, put in a good day's work yesterday. In the morning he went to jail and preached to the prisoners. After that he conducted services in the Christian Church. At 3 p. m. he held prayer meeting, at 6 p. m. he spoke at a temperance meeting in the court house park and in the evening he again held forth at the Academy. There was a large attendance, and the exercises were quite interesting. Mr. Haskell talked in a pointed and original manner, and his effort was well received. To-night he will be assisted by James Dunn and others.

NOTES.

Most of the churches were well attended yesterday.

The Rev. A. Marine conducted a quarterly meeting at Auburn yesterday.

Haskell, the reformed clown, held forth at the Christian Church yesterday morning.

Mrs. Haskell conducted a ladies' prayer meeting, this afternoon, at the Christian Church.

The sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered yesterday morning, at the Christian Church.

At St. Mary's Church, yesterday morning, Father Rademacher preached a very able discourse upon "The Love of God."

No services were held yesterday at the First Presbyterian, Plymouth Congregational, First Baptist or Trinity Episcopal churches.

Prof. S. D. Miller preached at the Barry Street M. E. Church yesterday morning and at the Third Street M. E. Church last evening.

Miss Brown, of Maysville, delivered an interesting address last evening before the ladies' foreign missionary society at the Centenary M. E. Church.

Rev. Matthew Lowrie, formerly of this city, now pastor of a Presbyterian Church at Galesburg, Ill., has just returned home after a four months European trip. Upon his arrival his congregation gave him a public reception, which passed off very pleasantly. He is much thought of at Galesburg, as a clergyman and a man.

Haskell, the "reformed clown," held forth at the Christian Church yesterday. He was greatly annoyed that the ladies of the congregation should turn around to look at every one who arrived late, and instructed the usher to publicly describe the toilettes of all late arrivals, so that the ladies could sit still. In the press he had requested all attendants to bring their Bibles, but as few of them did so, Haskell remarked that he supposed Port Wayne were "too high toned" to carry Bibles around.

THE BUMMERS' LEVEE.

Held at City Hall at the Usual Hour.

What the Sabbath Day Yielded to the Pealers.

The city hall this morning presented a scene of gaiety that is seldom witnessed around this tribunal of justice. It seemed as if every one endeavored to "make it pleasant" for his neighbor. His honor was not behind in this particular, either, and in order to show to the crowd that he could "make it pleasant" once in a while, he called for an audience with John Hart, but John wasn't there and the echo of Dehl's sonorous voice died away without bringing John to the bar of justice.

Not discouraged, however, with this first attempt, his honor said, "Call Martin Mixer."

Dehl did so, and a form glided softly up and seated itself on the lap of the smiling Colerick. Henry put his hands around "it" and pressed

"it" to his throbbing heart.

"Oh, Martin, dear, you're charged with being unlawfully drunk. What say you; guilty, or not guilty?"

"Not guilty, sir," said Martin rising to his full height and surveying the court room with an air of dignity and arrogance that knocked Conover off his stool. "Sit down, sir," said his honor, "and don't get so altitudinous all at once." Martin sat down like a man, and Colerick asked him if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon him. "I have everything to say, sir; but, to cut it brief, I think you hadn't ought to fine me."

"Well, I don't think anything like that," said his honor, "and, as the city is in debt, I think you ought to help her out. Therefore you can give the marshal $1, which is a small sum when compared with the enormity of your crime."

The next one called was Chas. Hildebaugh, a worthy Teuton who came to town on Saturday and got gloriously drunk. He heard that Haskell, the reformed clown, was in town, and he thought he had better come in and have a talk with him, but he stepped in to "wet his whistle" before going to see him, and the result was that Martin got slightly "mixed" so to speak, and the mayor said that $1 and costs would satisfy the greed of the law. Chas. didn't have the notes, so he took a back seat.

The next individual called was Wm. Murray. William was in the same predicament as Martin Mixer, but William's offence was more aggravated because he tried to scare some east end females to death. But those females don't scare worth a cent, so they just went and informed Officer Frank, who took the festive William in. Will did not deny the charges, and the mayor said $3 and costs would let him out. After some grumbling on William's part he took a back seat.

Now, gentle reader, pause and reflect upon the wickedness of humanity and the hard heartedness of city officials, when they ask a female to come up and answer for her acts. This female's name is Lucinda Wallace, a "rag," by occupation.

The mayor asked her where she wanted to go? and she in turn said, she had no particular point in view, but if the mayor would detail an officer to superintend the packing of her wardrobe, she would like to take in the Toronto excursion.

The mayor bowed his acquiescence, and detailed officer O'Connell, a hand well also engaged to escort her to the train. After the mayor had bade her good bye, she left for her hotel to await the arrival of the carriage to take her to the train.

HE GOT LEFT.

A Singular Disappearance from a Passenger Train.

Bill Match Was Lost, but Is Found Again.

Several days ago William Match, a workman in the Pittsburgh car shop, accompanied by his wife and daughter, his brother-in-law, Wm. Ware, and Fred Lantz, a brother workman, left for a short visit to Chicago. They last night boarded No. 4 at Chicago, which is due here at 6.55 a. m., to return home.

Shortly after leaving Hobart station his companions discovered that William was missing and remembered that he had left his seat as the train was approaching Hobart. His coat, vest, pocket-book, hat and boots were left in the car, but after a thorough search of the whole train nothing of the missing man was discovered, and his friends and family were of course very much alarmed at his strange disappearance, the natural supposition being that he had fallen from the train and was perhaps run over and killed.

Telegrams were sent to Hobart and other points to ascertain whether anything could be learned concerning Match. This morning a dispatch was received from him, dated at Hobart reading:

"I will be home on No. 2 to-day. Tell my folks."

This is all that is known. There is no saying or judging how he happened to be left at Hobart with nothing on but pants, shirt and stockings, but Mr. Match can probably give an explanation.

He is a much respected man and his fellow workmen were considerably alarmed for his safety. A committee will meet him on the arrival of No. 2, and tender him a clean pair of socks.

WHERE IS HE?

An Auburn Man and Six Hundred Dollars Simultaneously Disappeared.

Very Good Reason to Suspect Foul Play.

Saturday afternoon Otto Maide, who resides near Auburn left his home to come to this city, intending to return in the evening. Not returning, his family became uneasy as to his whereabouts and search was immediately instituted. A messenger was sent to this city to inform the authorities about the matter. They, too, immediately began search for the missing man, but up to the present writing Maide has not been found. As he had about $600 in his person when he left home, it is feared that he has been foully dealt with. The officers think he did not come to the city. Be this as it may, the affair is shrouded in mystery, and his family are greatly alarmed about him.

RAILWAY RACKET.

Important Conference of Magnates in This City Yesterday.

A Variety of Interesting Railroad Items.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD MEETING.

Several railroad magnates spent yesterday in this city. Ever since the appointment of Elijah Smith, recorder of the Ft. W. M. & C. R. R., differences have existed between him and Mr. P. B. Loomis, president of the Ft. W. J. & S. R. R., as to the amount of rental the former road should pay the latter for the use of its track north of the Pittsburgh crossing, and of yard, etc. Mr. Smith declined to recognize as receiver, the contract with the corporation, on the grounds that the price paid was too high, and that he, as receiver, was not bound. Matters had remained in this condition for two years past.

To avoid litigation and preserve the amiable relations existing between the roads, it was finally agreed to submit the matter to arbitration. Mr. Loomis chose Mr. Charles E. Paine, general superintendent of the Lake Shore Road, and Mr. Smith chose Mr. Chas. Perkins, vice president and general manager of the C. & P. & Q. R. R. The parties all met here and, accompanied by Mr. Worthington and the attorneys of the road, took a coach, went over the general ground, viewed the premises, etc.

The arbitrators finally agreed without calling a third. The rental for the past two years and for the future was reduced about one-half.

These gentlemen, accompanied by friends, yesterday afternoon drove about the city and expressed themselves as greatly pleased as well as surprised at the beauty of our city and the evidences of prosperity and business enterprise patent on every hand.

They stopped with Mr. McKinney, and were warm in praises of mine host of the railroad eating house, and of the bill of fare placed before his guests.

Messrs. Perkins and Smith left at six o'clock last evening, for Chicago, on a special train furnished by Supt. C. D. Gorham. Mr. Paine, who was accompanied by his wife, left here on Wabash, this morning, for his home in Cleveland, and Mr. Loomis returns to Jackson, to-day.

NOTES.

Avilla went to Rome City to-day.

Business is falling off rapidly on the Wabash.

The new spur track at Maples has been completed.

The Pittsburgh Mogul (157) is working to the satisfaction of all.

Barren's fat woman went east on No. 4 on the Pittsburgh to-day.

Conductor Long of the Pittsburgh, and his wife are both on the sick list.

The Pittsburgh pay car will leave for the west this afternoon, drawn by engine No. 151.

The Pittsburgh road is having all its station houses and depots on the east end repaired.

Alfie Johnson, telegraph operator on the Saginaw, has been transferred from Angola to Jackson.

John Criss, of the Pittsburgh, who has been "off" for the past month, returned to duty Saturday.

Eight new engines, ordered by the Wabash from Patterson, N. J., will arrive the last of this week.

Engine No. 121, Reub. Monroe engine, which has been on the Pittsburgh local for the past few days, is again running freight.

The Pittsburgh shops will finish work on refrigerator cars this week, when work will be immediately commenced on a number of new box cars.

Forest fires are raging in various places along the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad, and in some cases have done considerable damage. Several lines of the company's fence have been burned between Stanwood and Howard City. The people of Stanwood were compelled to turn out in a body a day or two ago and throw up a trench, in order to keep the fire from entering the village.

The following railway magnates died yesterday at the McKinnick House: C. E. Perkins, first vice president and general manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Chas. Payne, general superintendent of the Michigan Southern, Elijah Smith, of Boston, recorder of the Muncie, P. B. Loomis, president of the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw, and Maj. Walker, of Chicago. After dinner they were driven about the city.

John McDaniels, formerly a brakeman in the employ of the Wabash Railway Company, and who lost a leg in the collision between two freight trains near Antioch, in August, 1877, has filed a $25,000 damage suit against the company, in the United States Court. He attributes the accident to the carelessness of Willie McKenry, the operator at Wabash, who was asleep when he should have been on duty.

AMUSEMENTS.

BASE BALL TO-MORROW.

In another column will be found an advertisement announcing a game between two base ball clubs on the fair grounds to-morrow afternoon. The clubs are announced to be the Female Red Stockings, of New York, and the Female Blue Stockings of Philadelphia. These are the clubs which have played in eastern cities, and in nearly every case before large audiences. The novelty of seeing women play ball will undoubtedly attract a large audience, though no one expects to see a scientific game of ball. The game is to be called at 3.30 o'clock. Admission, 25 cents.

BREVITIES.

Livery men did a big business yesterday.

Root & Co. have a spanking new wagon.

Rev. Wharton goes to Lima, O., to-morrow.

The board adjourned until 9 a. m., to-morrow.

Councilman Lillie goes to Huntington to-day.

Work on the tax duplicate is progressing rapidly.

Miss Josephine Eme has returned from Sidney, O.

Frank Casso had his grand opening Saturday evening.

State Treasurer Fleming has returned to Indianapolis.

The barbers gave Dan Benninghoff a racket, last night.

There was a little difficulty at Ed. Driscoll's on Saturday.

A cousin of Jeff Davis is juggling type in the SENTINEL office.

Hon. R. C. Bell leaves for Pittsburgh and New York to-night.

About 150 people accompanied the Stengerband to Toledo yesterday.

An old-fashioned knock down took place near the south depot, on Saturday evening.

In the case of the State vs. Fisher for trespass, Squire Ryan acquitted the defendant.

A. S. Johns's buggy was badly smashed up by a runaway horse Saturday evening.

The canal company is building a wharf 200 feet long on the St. Joe River, above the feeder dam.

J. C. Scott has returned from Eaton Rapids, Mich., where he has been for the past few weeks for his health.

James M. Dunn, the man who first inaugurated the Murphy movement in this city several years ago, is now here.

O. Bohm, a guest of the Washington House, was, on Saturday night, robbed of a suit of clothes and a watch.

Miss May Gracie, who has been visiting relatives at Findlay, O., for the past three weeks, returned home on Saturday.

Our contemporaries are determined to have Clary Edsall on the sick list. Mr. E. is well and hearty nevertheless—or was this morning.

There was very little drunkenness noticed on the streets yesterday, notwithstanding the fact that Saturday was Pittsburgh pay-day.

No one should refuse to buy a ticket to the concert at the Academy Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Ladies' Relief and Aid Society.

The horses Jesse Dixon and Captain Crapo have been sold to parties from Michigan, for the sum of $2,500. They will probably go through the western circuit.

On Saturday, a baby fourteen months old, from the east, died of cholera infantum on a Pittsburgh passenger train, between this city and Chicago.

The agricultural society are about to erect at the fair grounds a building to replace the one blown down last year, to be used for general exhibition purposes.

Mrs. R. O. Bell has received intelligence of the serious illness of a favorite niece, the daughter of Hon. Jason Wilson, a prominent banker of Marion, Ind.

Mrs. H. McKinnick with her daughter Miss Esther, and Master George, will leave Manhattan Beach for their home in this city to-morrow, stopping at Cleveland a few days.

There is a striking resemblance between Tom Meegan's editorials in the morning luminary, and the editorials in the Philadelphia Times. Nothing must be understood in this connection as reflecting on the Times as a plagiarist.

Among the deaths of the past forty-eight hours are the following: A. T. Thompson, 16 months; John George Reiter, 15 months; Mary Ruppel, 3 years; Leonard Clements, 13 months; Wm. Gibson (Pleasant township), 10 months; Mrs. Catlin, 83 years.

The party given by the Misses Hanna, at their residence, last Friday evening, was a brilliant affair and will long be remembered by the participants as a most enjoyable occasion. The rain interfered somewhat with the boys as carriages called to take the ladies home.

The contract for building a new brick school-house at Hoagland, was awarded last Saturday to Daniel Mays, of Monroeville, for $574. The other bidders were E. Smithley, $646; Fred. Kuef, $685; Deblaise & Hockmeyer, $739; Samuel Devistien, $795. Work will be commenced at once.

The illness of Pat Conover has its effect on the local department of the SENTINEL. Shober misses his right bowler.—Gazette. There seems to be a startling uniformity of absence of right bowlers on the Gazette local staff. An aching void occupies the place usually filled with brains in the average newspaper man. A little attention to the news of the day and a careful perusal of the columns of the SENTINEL may yet make the Gazette a readable paper.

Just received, a full line of all the new fall shapes of Hats and Bonnets at Noll's, 21 West Main. $14,5

CITY FEATURES.

His Success.

Dr. von Moschizker's great success in the cure of Deafness, Catarrh, Throat, Lung, Chest Heart Diseases, and other chronic maladies, is too well known now to need any further comment. The many patients he has treated speak in highest praise of the satisfaction he has given. His system of treating those maladies is the only one from which a speedy and radical cure can be expected. Let none who need his medical help neglect the opportunity they still have to avail themselves of the same and call at once at his rooms, Avenue House.

his hands around "it" and pressed "it" to his throbbing heart.

"Oh, Martin, dear, you're charged with being unlawfully drunk. What say you; guilty, or not guilty?"

"Not guilty, sir," said Martin rising to his full height and surveying the court room with an air of dignity and arrogance that knocked Colerick off his stool. "Sit down, sir," said his honor, "and don't get so altitudinous all at once." Martin sat down like a man, and Colerick asked him if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon him. "I have everything to say, sir; but, to cut it brief, I think you hadn't ought to fine me."

"Well, I don't think anything like that," said his honor, "and, as the city is in debt, I think you ought to help her out. Therefore you can give the marshal $1, which is a small sum when compared with the enormity of your crime."

The next one called was Chas. Hildebaugh, a worthy Teuton who came to town on Saturday and got gloriously drunk. He heard that Haskell, the reformed clown, was in town, and he had a talk with him, but he stepped in to "wet his whistle" before going to see him, and the result was that Martin got slightly "mixed" so to speak, and the mayor said that $1 and costs would satisfy the greed of the law. Chas. didn't have the notes, so he took a back seat.

The next individual called was Wm. Murray. William was in the same predicament as Martin Mixer, but William's offence was more aggravated because he tried to scare some east end females to death. But those females don't scare worth a cent, so they just went and informed Officer Franke, who took the festive William in. Will did not deny the charges, and the mayor said $3 and costs would let him out. After some grumbling on William's part he took a back seat.

Now, gentle reader, pause and reflect upon the wickedness of humanity and the hard heartedness of city officials, when they ask a female to come up and answer for her acts. This female's name is Lucinda Wallace, a "vag," by occupation.

The mayor asked her where she wanted to go? and she in turn said, she had no particular point in view, but if the mayor would detail an officer to superintend the packing of her wardrobe, she would like to take in the Toronto excursion. The mayor bowed his acquiescence, and detailed Officer O'Connell, a hand well also engaged to escort her to the train. After the mayor had bade her good bye, she left for her hotel to await the arrival of the carriage to take her to the train.

HE GOT LEFT.

A Singular Disappearance from a Passenger Train.

Bill Match Was Lost, but Is Found Again.

Several days ago William Match, a workman in the Pittsburgh car shop, accompanied by his wife and daughter, his brother-in-law, Wm. Wares, and Fred. Leutz, a brother workman, left for a short visit to Chicago. They last night boarded No. 4 at Chicago, which is due here at 6.55 a. m., to return home.

Shortly after leaving Hobart station his companions discovered that William was missing and remembered that he had left his seat as the train was approaching Hobart. His coat, vest, pocket-book, hat and boots were left in the car, but after a thorough search of the whole train nothing of the missing man was discovered, and his friends and family were of course very much alarmed at his strange disappearance, the natural supposition being that he had fallen from the train and was perhaps run over and killed.

Telegrams were sent to Hobart and other points to ascertain whether anything could be learned concerning Match. This morning a dispatch was received from him, dated at Hobart reading:

"I will be home on No. 2 to-day. Tell my folks."

This is all that is known. There is no saying or judging how he happened to be left at Hobart with nothing on but pants, shirt and stockings, but Mr. Match can probably give an explanation.

He is a much respected man and his fellow workmen were considerably alarmed for his safety. A committee will meet him on the arrival of No. 2, and tender him a clean pair of socks.

WHERE IS HE?

An Auburn Man and Six Hundred Dollars Simultaneously Disappeared.

Very Good Reason to Suspect Foul Play.

Saturday afternoon Otto Maide, who resides near Auburn left his home to come to this city, intending to return in the evening. Not returning, his family became uneasy as to his whereabouts and search was immediately instituted. A messenger was sent to this city to inform the authorities about the matter. They, too, immediately began search for the missing man, but up to the present writing Maide has not been found. As he had about $600 on his person when he left home, it is feared that he has been foully dealt with. The officers think he did not come to the city. Be this as it may, the affair is shrouded in mystery, and his family are greatly alarmed about him.

RAILWAY RACKET.

Important Conference of Magnates in This City Yesterday.

A Variety of Interesting Railroad Items.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD MEETING.

Several railroad magnates spent yesterday in this city. Ever since the appointment of Elijah Smith, recorder of the Ft. W. M. & C. R. R., differences have existed between him and Mr. P. B. Loomis, president of the Ft. W. J. & S. R. R., as to the amount of rental the former road should pay the latter for the use of its track north of the Pittsburgh crossing, and of yard, etc. Mr. Smith declined to recognize as receiver, the contract with the corporation, on the grounds that the price paid was too high, and that he, as receiver, was not bound. Matters had remained in this condition for two years past.

To avoid litigation and preserve the amiable relations existing between the roads, it was finally agreed to submit the matter to arbitration. Mr. Loomis chose Mr. Charles E. Paine, general superintendent of the Lake Shore Road, and Mr. Smith chose Mr. Chas. Perkins, vice president and general manager of the C. B. & Q. R. R. The parties all met here and, accompanied by Mr. Worthington and the attorneys of the road, took a coach, went over the general ground, viewed the premises, etc.

The arbitrators finally agreed without calling a third. The rental for the past two years and for the future was reduced about one-half.

These gentlemen, accompanied by friends, yesterday afternoon drove about the city and expressed their selves as greatly pleased as well as surprised at the beauty of our city and the evidences of prosperity and business enterprise palpable on every hand.

They stopped with Mr. McKimney, and were warm in praises of mine host of the railroad eating house, and of the bill of fare placed before his guests.

Messrs. Perkins and Smith left at six o'clock last evening, for Chicago, on a special train furnished by Supt. C. D. Gorham. Mr. Paine, who was accompanied by his wife, left here on Wabash, this morning, for his home in Cleveland, and Mr. Loomis returns to Jackson, to-day.

NOTES.

Avilla went to Rome City to-day.

Business is falling off rapidly on the Wabash.

The new spur track at Maples has been completed.

The Pittsburgh Mogul (157) is working to the satisfaction of all.

Barnum's fat woman went east on No. 4 on the Pittsburgh to-day.

Conductor Long of the Pittsburgh, and his wife are both on the sick list.

The Pittsburgh pay car will leave for the west this afternoon, drawn by engine No. 161.

The Pittsburgh road is having all its station houses and depots on its east end repainted.

Allie Johnson, telegraph operator on the Saginaw, has been transferred from Angola to Jackson.

John Crist, of the Pittsburgh, who has been "off" for the past month, returned to duty Saturday.

Eight new engines, ordered by the Wabash from Patterson, N. J., will arrive the last of this week.

Engine No. 181, Reata, Monroe, engineer, which has been on the Pittsburgh local for the past few days, is again running freight.

The Pittsburgh shops will finish work on refrigerator cars this week, when work will be immediately commenced on a number of new box cars.

Forest fires are raging in various places along the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad, and in some cases have done considerable damage. Several lines of the company's fence have been burned between Stanwood and Howard City. The people of Stanwood were compelled to turn out in a body at 4 o'clock, and throw up a trench, in order to keep the fire from entering the village.

The following railway magnates dined yesterday at the Mickennie House: C. E. Perkins, first vice president and general manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Chas. Payne, general superintendent of the Michigan Southern, Elijah Smith, of Boston, receiver of the Muncie, P. B. Loomis, president of the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw, and Maj. Walker, of Chicago. After dinner they were driven about the city.

John McDaniels, formerly a brakeman in the employ of the Wabash Railway Company, and who lost a leg in the collision between two freight trains near Antioch, in August, 1877, has filed a $25,000 damage suit against the company in the United States Court. He attributes the accident to the carelessness of Willie McHenry, the operator at Wabash, who was asleep when he should have been on duty.

AMUSEMENTS.

BASE BALL TO-MORROW.

In another column will be found an advertisement announcing a game between two base ball clubs on the fair grounds to-morrow afternoon. The clubs are announced to be the Female Red Stockings, of New York, and the Female Blue Stockings of Philadelphia. These are the clubs which have played in eastern cities, and in nearly every case before large audiences. The novelty of seeing women play ball will undoubtedly attract a large audience, though no one expects to see a scientific game of ball. The game is to be called at 3.30 o'clock. Admission, 25 cents.

CITY FEATURES.

Livery men did a big business yesterday.

Root & Co. have a spanking new wagon.

Rev. Wharton goes to Lima, O., to-morrow.

The board adjourned until 9 a. m., to-morrow.

Councilman Lillie goes to Huntington to-day.

Work on the tax duplicate is progressing rapidly.

Miss Josephine Eme has returned from Sidney, O.

Frank Casso had his grand opening Saturday evening.

State Treasurer Fleming has returned to Indianapolis.

The barbers gave Dan Benninghoff a racket, last night.

There was a little difficulty at Ed. Driscoll's on Saturday.

A cousin of Jeff Davis is juggling type in the SENTINEL office.

Hon. R. C. Bell leaves for Pittsburgh and New York to-night.

About 150 people accompanied the Sengerbund to Toledo yesterday.

An old-fashioned knock down took place near the south depot, on Saturday evening.

In the case of the State vs. Fisher for trespass, Squire Ryan acquitted the defendant.

A. S. Johns's buggy was badly smashed up by a runaway horse Saturday evening.

The canal company is building a wharf 200 feet long on the St. Joe River, above the feeder dam.

J. C. Scott has returned from Eaton Rapids, Mich., where he has been for the past few weeks for his health.

James M. Dunn, the man who first inaugurated the Murphy movement in this city several years ago, is now here.

C. Bohm, a guest of the Washington House, was, on Saturday night, robbed of a suit of clothes and a watch.

Miss May Graffe, who has been visiting relatives at Findlay, O., for the past three weeks, returned home on Saturday.

Our cotemporaries are determined to have Clary Edsall on the sick list. Mr. E. is well and hearty nevertheless—or was this morning.

There was very little drunkenness noticed on the streets yesterday, notwithstanding the fact that Saturday was Pittsburgh pay-day.

No one should refuse to buy a ticket to the concert at the Academy Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Ladies' Relief and Aid Society.

The horses Jesse Dixon and Captain Crapo have been sold to parties from Michigan, for the sum of $2,500. They will probably go through the western circuit.

On Saturday, a baby fourteen months old, from the east, died of cholera infantum on a Pittsburgh passenger train, between this city and Chicago.

The agricultural society are about to erect at the fair grounds a building to replace the one blown down last year, to be used for general exhibition purposes.

Mrs. R. C. Bell has received intelligence of the serious illness of a favorite niece, the daughter of Hon. Jason Wilson, a prominent banker of Marion, Ind.

Mrs. H. McKimney with her daughter Miss Esther, and Master George, will leave Manhattan Beach for their home in this city to-morrow, stopping at Cleveland a few days.

There is a striking resemblance between Tom Meegan's editorials in the morning luminary, and the editorials in the Philadelphia Times. Nothing must be understood in this connection as reflecting on the Times as a plagiarist.

Among the deaths of the past forty-eight hours are the following: A. T. Thompson, 16 months; John George Reiter, 15 months; Mary Ruppel, 3 years; Leonard Clements, 13 months; Wm. Gibson (Pleasant township), 10 months; Mrs. Catlin, 83 years.

The party given by the Misses Hanna, at their residence, last Friday evening, was a brilliant affair and will long be remembered by the participants as a most enjoyable occasion. The rain interfered somewhat with the boys as carriages called to take the ladies home.

The contract for building a new brick school-house at Hoagland, was awarded last Saturday to Daniel Mays, of Monroeville, for $574. The other bidders were E. Smithley, $945; Fred. Kneft, $655; Deibibis & Hockemeyer, $738; Samuel Devestine, $795. Work will be commenced at once.

The illness of Pat Conover has its effect on the local department of the SENTINEL. Shober misses his right bower.—Gazette. There seems to be a startling uniformity of absence of right bowers on the Gazette local staff. An aching void occupies the place usually filled with brains in the average newspaper man. A little attention to the news of the day and a careful perusal of the columns of the SENTINEL may yet make the Gazette a readable paper.
